Chapter Three

The Henry Webb Family of Grayson County, Virginia

The Early Generation

James\textsuperscript{1} Webb, the earliest known ancestor of many of the Webbs whose roots are in Grayson County, Virginia, is mentioned in the family Bible record of the Reverend Isaac Webb. This Bible has been preserved by Isaac’s descendants.

It is not known for certain just where this James Webb lived, but it would not be too unlikely that he was descended from the Giles Webb who lived at Chuckatuck on the boundary of Nansemond and Isle of Wight Counties, perhaps through Giles’ son James who died before 17 February 1675. There is, however, no proof that this Giles was the ancestor of the Grayson County Webbs, except what attaches from the similarity of names.

The Bible record also shows that James Webb had a son Jacob\textsuperscript{2} who married Mary/Mollie Austin. Their son Henry Webb was the progenitor of the Grayson County Webbs.

Third Generation

James\textsuperscript{1}, Jacob\textsuperscript{2}

Henry\textsuperscript{3} Webb, son of Jacob and Mary/Mollie (Austin) Webb, was born in the 1750s; birthplace known. It is known, however, by the Isaac Webb Bible that he came from the Blackwater of Franklin County, Virginia in the 1780s and settled in that part of Montgomery County that became Wythe in 1793, which then became Grayson County in 1795. He is shown on the Personal Property Tax List of Montgomery County for 1793 (1792 taxes), and on the 1795 Tax List of Wythe County (1794 taxes).

Henry Webb was called “Hal” by all who knew him and tradition is that he was a small “red-headed” man who had been loyal to England during the early part of the Revolutionary War, but later joined with the colonies in that struggle for freedom.

Though there have been in Grayson and Carroll Counties several different families of this name, the largest has been that of Henry and Susanna (Cocke) Webb. Henry’s wife is believed to have been a daughter of John, Sr. and Elizabeth (Goad) Cocke.

Henry Webb left no will, but deeded land to his children before he died, which was about 1845. He is buried in the Thompson Cemetery on Snake Creek in Carroll County. His grave is unmarked.

E. Jones, A.D.C., Louisville, KY July 17, 1864. From there he was sent to Camp Douglas, Illinois where he remained as a prisoner of war until 16 May 1865.

While in Camp Douglas his name is on a Roll of Prisoners of War applying for the oath of allegiance, January 1, 1865. Below is a typed copy of his hand-written letter.

Camp Douglas, Chicago, Illinois

December 29, 1864

Sir:

I, John R. Webb, a private of Co. I, 63rd Virginia Infantry, Would most respectfully represent that I was enlisted into the Rebel Service at Wythville, Va on 19th May 1861. At the time of my enlistment the greatest excitement prevailed throughout the country and like so many mis-guided men I drifted into this rebellion without being aware of the great wrong I was committing.

I would further represent that I was captured at Chattahoochee, Georgia on the 5th July 1864 by Gen’l Thomas’ command, and that I do not desire to be returned South in exchange, but would most respectfully ask that permission be granted me to take the Oath of Allegiance to the United States that I may become again a free man, and enjoy the privileges of an American Citizen.

I am Sir

Very Respectfully & c

John R. Webb (signed)
Co. I, 63rd Virginia Infantry

John R. And Susannah (Webb) Webb had children:
Jacob6 Webb, son of James and Sarah (Gallimore) Webb, was born 3 April 1839 in what is now Raleigh County, West Virginia. He married 1) about 1858 Mary Emaline Ellison d/o Felix Ellison and 2) Clarinda Jane Bailey born 25 Oct 1848; died 5 Sep 1937 Boone County, WV d/o Leftridge and Parena

During the Civil War Jacob “Jake” Webb enlisted in the Union Army 10 October 1861 in the new regiment which was being organized by John Hunt Oley, W. S. Dunbar, and others. This outfit then known as the 8th Regiment, Virginia Infantry was mustered into Federal service at Wheeling October 29, 1861 with John Hunt Oley as Major, and Wm. S. Dunbar as Capt. of Company H. The regiment later became the 7th West Virginia Cavalry.

Jacob Webb was a private in Company H until 30 November 1862 at which time he was promoted to 1st Sergeant. Then on February 25, 1863 he was commissioned a 2nd Lt. A month later he was promoted to 1st Lt. He held that rank until he was honorably discharged 23 February 1865.

Perhaps his most trying assignment was the one given him to “seek and destroy” Andrew Gunnoe, the leader of a ruthless gang of Confederate Home Guards who were terrorizing Raleigh and Wyoming Counties. There were many reports of atrocities committed against Union sympathizers by Capt. Andrew Gunnoe’s gang which reached the Union Headquarters. The army sent Lt. Jacob Webb to the area to deal with the problem. Tradition is the he was given orders to hang Andrew when he caught him.

After arriving in Raleigh County, Lt. Jacob Webb enlisted the help of the Union Home Guard. With Pemberton Cook and his son Perry, a man named Milam, and two other men he crossed the mountain into Craney Creek near where Andrew Gunnoe lived. He stationed part of his men on each side of the road. They were perhaps concealed in the bushes and waited for Andrew to appear. When he did they asked him to surrender, but instead, he tried to draw his service revolver and was shot from each side of the road. The Reverend James Peters, who saw the body, later reported that the bullets made a single hole large enough to drop a pebble through. Incidentally, Andrew Gunnoe had shot one of James Peters’ nephews. Relatives and friends of Andrew Gunnoe called the incident an ambush. Descendants of Jacob Webb called it duty. Perhaps both were right to some extent.

Lt. Jacob Webb participated in battles in the Shenandoah Valley and was on the Salem Raid. At Droop Mountain, West Virginia he fought against his brother John R. Webb.
